While this site is generally not a forum for political causes, there currently are two bills working their way through the Nebraska Unicameral Legislature that deserve the attention of the readers. The bills, LB 78 and 564, have the potential to impact every type of cycling in the State of Nebraska.

In September 2006, the Nebraska Supreme Court ruled in Bronson v. Dawes County that governmental entities were not entitled to protection from litigation under the Nebraska Recreational Liability Act. Under Nebraska law prior to that ruling, a city or county could not be sued if someone was injured on public property while engaged in a recreational activity unless some gross negligence on the part of the city or county was found.
